

Developer Monsson Group and system integrator Prime Batteries Technology have inaugurated a 6MW/24MWh battery energy storage system (BESS) in Romania, the country's largest. Monsson inaugurated the 4-hour project in Constanta County this week and is co-located with 35MW of solar PV and a 50MW wind park, which will be connected to the grid ...

Romania aims to have at least 2.5 GW of battery energy storage systems (BESS) in operation by next year and to surpass 5 GW of capacity by 2026 under a plan that is seen to help it cope with high energy prices.

Romania was also in the news recently for reopening a competitive solicitation for large-scale BESS projects, seeking 240MW/480MWh of projects. The BESS unit, provided by Prime Batteries, will charge at peak production times and discharge when production tails off.

Minister of Energy Sebastian Burduja reportedly declared at a conference that Romania's storage requirement is 4,000MWh, and that half would be covered by BESS and half by pumped hydro energy storage (PHES) ...

Enache claimed that Romania could become the most advanced energy storage market in Europe. Others have said the same about the wider Central and Eastern Europe (CEE) region, where utility-scale BESS deployments are set to grow substantially in the coming years from a negligible base.

We hear from renewables independent power producer (IPP) and energy trading firm Monsson about a recent BESS project in Romania which the company said used nearly 100% European technologies. The company is ...
