

Are JBD BMS still made?

The JBD BMSs are no longer being produced. When our current stock is sold, no more will be made. The replacement for these is our all new, Designed by Overkill Solar in America, Pathfinder BMS. It is not quite ready but the pre-sale will start soon.

Does the JBD BMS have a cell balancer?

Note: This JBD BMS has a built in passive balancer, capable of 50mA of balance current. Before assembling your battery bank, we suggest manually top balancing, or utilizing an Active Cell Balancer instead. If you are using low-quality or B-grade cells, the BMS will not provide enough balance current without the addition of an active cell balancer.

Does the JBD BMS have a fan-free design?

The JBD BMS has a fan-free design that eliminates the risk of failure and removes airflow path requirements.

Note: This JBD BMS has a built in passive balancer, capable of 50mA of balance current. Before assembling your battery bank, we suggest manually top balancing, or utilizing an Active Cell Balancer instead.
