

Does Albania have a national strategy of energy?

Albania's Ministry of Energy recently launched an auction round for the construction of the country's first large-scale solar plant. The country also has a National Strategy of Energy, which aims to develop an effective energy sector that guarantees secur

Should Albania's energy mix include more renewables?

While Albania's energy mix already features one of the highest shares of renewables in the region owing to its extensive installed hydropower capacity, the essential need remains for a more secure, cost-competitive national energy supply. Diversifying the electricity mix to include more renewables would strengthen Albania's energy security.

What is Albania's energy mix?

Hydropower accounts for the largest share of the country's electricity generation, representing around 95% of the Albania's installed power capacity. This means Albania's energy mix has one of the highest shares of renewable energy in South East Europe; however, it is also highly dependent on annual rainfall.

Does Albania have a strong focus on hydro vs non-hydro renewables?

The Albanian Renewable Energy Association, due to the country's history of hydropower production, has a stronger focus on hydro than non-hydro renewables.

Why is planning important in Albania's energy sector?

Planning is thus crucial in avoiding piecemeal development approaches, ad-hoc decision making, and contradictory investments and development support. Albania's energy sector is guided by its National Energy Sector Strategy 2030, along with the National Renewable Energy Action Plan 2018-2020 and the Gas Master Plan.

Is Albania a net energy importer?

Albania is a net energy importer. Between 2014 and 2018, the amount of net energy imported ranged from a low of 12% of the TPES in 2015 to a high of 46% in 2017. Net energy imports are directly correlated to annual rainfall, given that the electricity sector is almost entirely reliant on hydropower production.
