

SUNSYS HES L is an outdoor energy storage system suitable for on-grid energy storage for both the generation and distribution sides. It supports dedicated applications to optimise photovoltaics and self-consumption, peak shaving and backup power, in particular for commercial and industrial buildings and EV charging infrastructure.

They are reducing the impact of increases in the retail electricity price, managing the intermittence of renewable energy production, or meeting the challenge of demand-response energy balance. Whatever the need or the application in this new environment, SOCOMEC energy storage solutions are the concrete answer. Take action today with our ...

Socomec's experience in power conversion, switching and monitoring has enabled us to create a flexible and reliable energy storage offer. From best in class components to a customised fully integrated container - and now including a native outdoor system - we work with our customers to identify the best possible option and support its deployment in the field.

Energy Toolbase and Socomec have deployed an energy storage system at a Southern California Logistics center. This project is part of a long-term partnership between Energy Toolbase and Socomec to provide developers with end-to-end energy storage systems.

With this new Socomec system, the surplus energy produced but not consumed is stored in the batteries for later use. The aim is to achieve a self-consumption rate of 75% of the energy produced compared to a maximum of 50% today. To store the energy produced in order to increase the autonomy of the building

Following Socomec's successful introduction of the SUNSYS HES L, a native outdoor energy storage system ranging from 100 kVA / 186 kWh to 600 kVA / 1674 kWh, the specialist in source switching, energy conversion and ...

6 White Paper: Energy Storage - SOCOMEC Energy storage: a future challenge for power grids Power grids are facing many changes: o Faced with increasing geopolitical tensions, governments around the world are seeking to safeguard their position by defining energy autonomy strategies that are rooted in the development of renewable energies.
