JBD has new models available, but we have rejected all of their offerings for various reasons, mostly due to the complete lack of security on their built-in bluetooth connection. The new BMS is named The Pathfinder BMS by Overkill Solar. It is entirely designed in America by Overkill Solar, and programmed mostly in Canada.

Does the Overkill solar BMS limit the current?

Yes,the Overkill Solar BMS limits the current to the settings programmed into the BMS. For example,the Overkill BMS I use is 8s 24volt 100amp,which limits the current to 100 amps for both charging and discharging. The manual advises the use of a secondary Over current protector or disconnect device.

What happens if you don't use a BMS?

A: B elow on the left is a picture from one of our customers that wasn't using a BMS. It was over-charged,which creates gasses,and can cause the outer case to bulge (this kills the battery). One of the jobs of a BMS is to prevent overcharging. 6.

I have a complete test setup ready to go, including a Overkill Solar 8A 24V BMS, with an 8 cell lithium battery pack. I have 2 huge LFP battery packs in my old GM bus, and I"d like to be able to send the BMS data to a RPi, using MQTT protocol.

The polling rate of the data being requested from the BMS can be changed, using the bms.set_query_rate() method. Simply provide it with an integer period time, in miliseconds. There is an example in the section below. If the BMS is not responding, then the method bms.get_comm_error_state() will return true. If it is responding and outputing ...

Main metric I use to prove the quality of this unit is the lack of voltage drop across BMS when checking total battery voltage. The daly bms read 9.6v for a 4 cell 12v DIY battery which is >13v when bypassing the daly bms. Overkill showed no loss at all. Bluetooth works great. Haven"t tried usb PC connection yet.

i have paralleled 3 24v overkill solar BMS together with 3 sets of batteries @100AH and they balanced each other while i watched using blue tooth monitors went across all batteries.very cool. then i charged them all at once and it worked fine. gonna add another battery pack for a set of 4.

I"m building an off-grid ESS for my cabin and I have a 280 AH 24V LiFePO4 battery with an Overkillsolar 24V 100 Amp BMS. I"m using a SmartSolar MPPT 150/35 charge controller. So my question is this: Who is in charge of charging? The BMS is an impressively capable device with a lot of intelligence and will manage the batteries just fine on its own.
