

What are Ukraine's energy strategies?

Analysts said strategies included more electricity imports from Ukraine's Western neighbours, purchases of generators and alternative energy sources including solar panels, batteries and small gas turbine generators.

Is Russia targeting Ukraine's energy system?

Ukraine's energy system has been regularly targeted by Russia since its full-scale invasion in 2022, with attacks intensifying since the spring of 2024. The targeting of energy infrastructure has had wide-ranging consequences for the provision of energy to Ukrainian households and other consumers.

How dangerous is Ukraine's energy infrastructure in 2024?

With the escalation of attacks against Ukraine's energy infrastructure in 2024, the risks are significantly higher this winter. Temperatures can routinely drop below -10 °C between December and March, posing a serious humanitarian risk if heating is not available.

Which companies are partnering with DTEK to rebuild Ukraine's energy systems?

International partnerships have been pivotal in rebuilding Ukraine's energy systems. Companies such as GE Vernova and Honeywell are collaborating with DTEK on wind and battery storage projects. Roger Martella, GE Vernova's chief sustainability officer, praised Ukraine's unprecedented efforts to maintain its grid under wartime conditions.

Does decentralisation drive energy security in Ukraine?

Despite the high investment risks, the construction of a more decentralised system has begun, increasing resilience to attack and laying the groundwork for a distinctive longer-term transition pathway. In contrast with other countries, where decentralisation has been driven by sustainability concerns, the clear driver in Ukraine is energy security.

How will Russian attacks affect Ukraine's energy sector?

Prime Minister Denys Shmyhal told government meeting on Thursday that the consequences of Russian attacks on Ukraine's energy sector are "long-term", which means that saving power "will be part of our daily life in the years to come". "Our goal is to save at all levels: from large enterprises to individual houses and apartments," he said.
